- Details:
- Arcane text is a written set of words that has been inhabited by living magic.
 - Arcane text is usually obvious in that each letter appears to be constantly moving.
 - the caster must connect with the living words on a personal level.
 - the nature of Arcane life is so foreign there never has been any true understanding of it.
 - the counter spell of 'Tiro Mess' will not only end the spell,
 - will also cause the Save to become one column more difficult.
 - thus repeated 'Tiro Mess' spells could end up so extreme as to destroy the Arcane text.

- This DOES...
- ... attempt to put the caster in sync with the arcane text,
 - Caster rolls a MGC Save to attempt to align themselves.
 - Passing the Save indicates a good connection and translation (reading) is possible.
 - Failing MAY cause the arcane to become unresponsive.
 - The Nae'Em connection lasts only as long as the spell.
 - ... require the caster to be writing the entire duration,
 - thus writing materials are required as well.
 - ... allow review and understanding of the translation AFTER the duration is over.

- This does NOT...
- ... allow a permanent 'learning' of arcane text,
 - since arcane is living and constantly moving it cannot be decoded or learned.
 - ... decode cyphers.

- Focus Items and/or Kits:
- Use of a Focus Item will give a random benefit,
 - caster rolls 1d6 and uses the Enhancement

STACK	OUTCOME	COLLECTION	CLASS GROUPS	SAVECOL

Details:

-- The process of putting magic into an item is done by first.

Process of making a permanent magic item is done by obtaining a high quality item, putting an arcane aspect into it using the Focus Item sealing it with permanence. This spell can put the arcane aspects into the item putting an arcane aspect into it,

This DOES...

Caster casts one of the 'Identify x aspects' to hold the item open for up to 3 days per aspect ID'd.
This may be recast to hold it open for another 3 days per x if needed.
Caster attempts to coax arcane power into the item.
Caster casts the 'Coax Arcane Aspect' spell using a SKL:>99, if the Focus item is used then caster can use Save of SKL:4

This does NOT...

to compare to the arcanes SKL:4 Save of 55.
Player rolls the casters SKL:4 / SKL:>99 and notes how close to the SKL:4 / SKL:>99 they came GM rolls the arcane's SKL:4 of 55 and notes how close to the SKL:4 they rolled.
Passing a Comparison Save happens by being the highest above the required Save.
If both are below the required Save then the one that is below by the least amount passes.

The Caster Passing the save is able to put an arcane aspect into the item.
The Arcane passing means it does not go into the item.
Each aspect needs a single condition and single result
